

NAST to Host 2021 Annual Conference in Chicago

(Washington, DC, September 14, 2021) - Public finance officials and experts from across the country will meet in Chicago to attend the 2021 NAST Annual Conference. During this in person event, NAST members will engage with public finance experts and industry leaders on topics ranging from workforce needs, cybersecurity and Diversity, Equity & Inclusion. Besides speakers and networking opportunities, NAST members will convene for their Annual Business Meeting during the conference.

At the conference, NAST will be releasing their much-anticipated Public Finance Workforce Study to the public. With research conducted by Burning Glass Technologies, the NAST Foundation commissioned a national study of the public finance sector to review employment and staffing at the state, county, and city levels. With looming retirements and fewer applicants, NAST wanted to set a baseline in order to look specifically at the opportunities for this particular segment of the workforce.
